CHAIRMAN BABCOCK'S CLAIM. He flays the Espathicans Have Elected Over $50 Members of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.-At 8 o'clock to-night Mr. Babcock, Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, gave out the following statement: "Returns received up to this hour show that we have elected over 250 members, with several States to hear from. We have carried the solid Congressional delegations of twenty-three States. We have carried the majority of the delegations in thirty States, thereby enabling elect a President, in case the election should be thrown into the House. The returns indicate that we have secured control of the next Senate by a majority of one to three, without counting the vote of North Carolina, which has undoubtedly elected a Republican Legis-Inture."

IS A REPUBLICAN BOARD TO GER-Chairman Babcock's figures show that the Republicans have solid Congress delegations in the following States:
Connecticut, Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Bakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, Wyoming, West Virginia, Wisconsin. The number of districts he claims the Republicans carried in the other States are:
Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 1; California, 6; Illinois, 21; Iowa, 10; Kentucky, 5; Maryland, 4; Missouri, 7; New York, 29; North Carolina, 3; Ohio, 19; Pennsylvania, 27; South Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 4; Texas, 3; Virginia, 2, Chairman Babcock's figures show that the Fifteen Republicann Elected, 13 Tamman the Republicans had carried or barely missed carrying the Board of Aldermen, through the unofficial returns, to be but twelve Tammany Hall candidates who are sure of their election.

The Republicans have hopes of proving that Lantry, in the Sixteenth district, who seems to have forty plurality, was not actually elected. There are two other districts where the result seems to be in doubt, and where the seat is claim-

THE NEXT SENATE.

The Republicans Gain Three from the Democrats, Perhaps More.

The terms of thirty Senators expire on March 4, 1895, and the Legislatures, which were elected on Tuesday will choose the successors of most of them. In Georgia A. O. Bacon, Democrat, is already elected. Of the twenty-nine, thirteen are Democrats. Of these thirteen Johnson N. Camden of West Virginia, John R. McPherson of New Jersey, and John Martin of Kansas will be succeeded by Republicans, that party having elected the Legislatures in those States. The Republicans have elected their State ticket in Tennessee and claim the Legislature. If it shall prove that they have won that, Senator Isham G. Harris will also be succeeded by a Republican. In North Carolina the Legislature may be controlled by a fusion of Republicans and Populists. Two senators are eed Matt W. Ransom and the other to succeed Senator Jarvis, who was appointed to fill the Benator Jarvis, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Zebulon R. Vance. It is probable that one of the men chosen will be a Republican and the other a Populist if fusion has succeeded there.

Of the successors of sixteen Republicans whose terms expire the election of only one Republican—the successor of Anthony Higgins of Delaware—was in doubt. The Republicans have carried the Legislature in Delaware.

Three other vacancies are to be lilled, one each in Montana. Wyoming, and Washington, whose Legislatures failed to elect Senators two years ago. The Republicans have elected a working majority of the Legislature in each of these States.

ago. The Republicans have elected a working majority of the Legislature in each of these States.

Senator Matthew C. Butler of South Carolina will be succeeded by Gov. Tillman, who was elected Governor as a straightout Democrat, but who has strong Populiat leanings, as has his colleague. Senator John L. M. Irby.

In Nevada Senator Jones, elected as a Republican, has formally gone over to the Populists, with which party his colleague. William M. Stewart, also elected as a Republican, has long been inclined to act.

The Senate stands at present: Democrats, 44; Republicans, 39; Populists (counting Jones and Stewart), 5; vacant, 3.

From these figures it will be seen that the Democrats lose three certainly in New Jersey, West Virginia, and Kansaa, which the Republicans again. These with the three vacancies which the Republicans will fill—Montana. Wyoming, Washington—will give the Democrats 1, Republicans 42, and Populists 5. If the fusion Legislature is elected in North Carolina the Democrats will suffer a further loss of two, of which the Republicans will gain one, making the Senate, Democrats will suffer a further loss of two, of which the Republicans will gain one, making the Senate, Democrats will lose one more, which the Republicans will gain, and the Senate will stand Democrats 38, Republicans 44, Populists 6.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATIC. The Only Northern State Saved Out of the

San Francisco, Nov. 7 .- Returns from city and State are still incomplete owing to the abaurd method of delaying counting until the whole vote is polled, but enough have been received to show that the State has gone Democratic, giving James H. Budd for Governor from 2,000 to 3,000 plurality.

This result is due to the anti-monopoly spirit strengthened by the recent strike, to the Ameran Protective Association, and to the Republican revolt against unpopular Boss Dan M. Burns, who cracked the party whip too vig-orously. Other State officers are in doubt, but William T. Jeter (Dem.) has probably been william T. Jeter (Dem.) has probably been elected Lieutenant-Governor. Jackson Temple (Dem.) and E. W. Henshaw (Rep.) are sure of seats on the State Supreme bench.

For Congress California will return five Republicans and perhaps six. Maguire is the only Democrat who is safely elected. English (Dem.) utility give Hilbern (Rep.) a close run in the Third. The result now, when about one-third the precincts have been heard from, is as follows: First, John A. Barham, Rep.; Second. Grove Johnson, Rep.; Third, Samuel G. Hilbern, Rep., probably elected; Fourth, James G. Maguire, Dem.; Fifth, Eugene F. Loud, Rep.; Sixth, James McLachlan, Rep.; Seventh, W. W. Bowers, Rep.

Nothing can be said positively on the Legislature, but it looks Democratic. In San Francisco Adolph Sutro, the eccentric Comstock tunnel mining millionaire, is elected by a heavy vote. Sutro ran independent, and won a big following just before election by compelling the street rallroad monopoly to give one five-cent fare from the ferries to the Cliff House.

IN WESTCHESTER.

Octogenarian Surrogate Coffin Among the

The vote in Westchester county was unusually heavy. Coffin, who is an octogenarian, and has heavy. Coffin, who is an octogenarian, and has been Surrogate for many years, was defeated by Silkman by 3,910 plurality. Surrogate Coffin has been a familiar figure in Westchester politics for more than a generation. The vote for Sheriff was: Johnson, R., 15,336; Lyon, D., 12,547. Burns, Stewart. and Hus-ted, in the First, Second, and Third Assem-bly districts, respectively, received pluralities over their Democratic opponents ranging from 1,280 to 1,338.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7 .- The returns from the First Maryland Congressional district are yet in-complete, but the Republicans admit that the totals will indicate the election of Democrati Henry for the short and Miles for the Fiftyfourth Congress.

The Republicans in on the face of the returns The Republicans in on the face of the returns will, therefore, be three Congressmen—Wm. H. Baker in the Second, Charles E. Coffin in the Fifth, and George L. Wellington in the Sixth.

The Republicans will have absolute control of a department of the city Government; the upper branch of the City Council will have a Republican majority of two.

Just before the election the Democratic registers in Kent county struck one hundred Republicans from the lists, although it is said that they were qualified to vote. The Democrate carried the county by only 83, which would have been overcome had these Republicans been kept upon the lists. The Republicans of Wilmington are still celebrating their victory, and they have arranged for a parade on Saturday night.

No Change in Louisians.

New Orthans, Nov. 7.—Republicans this moraing admit that the Democratic candidates in the six Louisiana districts will receive the certificates. Buck in the Second district is the certificates. But in the Second care the selected by 7,000 majority, Meyer in the First by an equal majority, and Price in the Third will have 5,000 votes to spare.

Returns to-day practically insure the election of Boatner in the Fifth. Ogden in the Fourth, and Robertson in the Sixth over their Popullatopponents. The Republicans will contest the First, Second, and Third districts in the city region.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 7 .- Unofficial returns which will not be materially changed by the which will not be materially changed by the official count, show that the Republicans have carried Utah by 1,000, that being the approximate plurality of Cannon over Rawlins (Dem.) for Congress. The Republicans will also probably control the Constitutional Convention.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.-President Cleveland remained at Woodley to-day, consequently it was impossible to obtain from him an expres sion of opinion concerning yesterday's battle of the ballots. It was given out at the White House that he was probably engaged in the preparation of his annual message to Congress, but such was hardly the case, in view of the fact that the heads of the various departments have not yet furnished him with the necessary data The New York papers were sent out to him as soon as they arrived, and he probably spent the greater part of the day trying to figure out what grieved at the downfall of his pet Congressman William L. Wilson, and he will probably hunt un some some beeth for him in the public sar vice after the 4th of March next. It probably distressed him to learn that "Cuckoo" Tracey has also been thrown down at Albany. He may have derived some satisfaction from the news that "Silver Dollar" Bland will not have an opportunity to revive the free silver question in the next Congress. Thus the three high priests of free trade, Mugwumpry, and free silver re spectively are to be eliminated from the next

The members of the Cabinet were not in clined to discuss the result of yesterday's election. They undoubtedly have some very pronounced views on the subject, but they realize that silence is golden at this stage in the pro-ceedings. One member of the Cabinet said that there was but one explanation of the result, and that was that "the Democrats were divided and the Republicans were united."

him every time a paster for Sbarboro, the Republican candidate for Assemblyman, pasted on the regular Tammany ballot, partially obscured Brown's name. The right to go behind the returns of the inspectors will probably be asserted before the county canvassers.

In the other district, the Twenty-fourth, the first returns showed Alderman John Long reelected over Joseph Schilling, Republican, by eight plurality. This is denied on behalf of the Republican candidate, who says he is elected by more than fifty votes.

With Brown, Lantry, and Long all elected, Tammany Hall would have fifteen of the thirty-one members of the Board, but President John Jeroloman is a Democrat, if he is a member of another organization, so that there would be a Democratic majority of one on party questions. But if the Republicans get any one of the disputed districts, they will control the Board. It may seem strange that the Tammany leaders should be so interested in the control of the Board, whose powers have been so abridged that they cut a small figure in the municipal administration, and in view of the fact that a Republican Legislature may legislate the Board out of existence. There is one power possessed by the Board of Aldermen, however, which is of the greatest political importance. That is the power to redistrict the county of New York into Assembly districts.

The people of the State have adopted the Senator Faulkner was at the headquarters to day trying to look as cheerful as possible under the dreumstances. He made no attempt to conceal his surprise at the remarkable avalanche of Republican votes in almost every direction. Up to the last moment he hoped and expected that the Democrats would control the organization of the next House of Representatives. In referring to the constantly increasing army of "I told you os," Senator Faulkner said:

"There was only one man who ever intimated to me that such a landslide was possible, and that man was Richard Croker. Some time ago he was present at a meeting of the committee in New York. He then declared that no matter how much we fought or how well, the Repub licans would sweep the country. Hill would be district the county of New York into Assembly districts.

The people of the State have adopted the amendment to the Constitution providing for a resportionment of Senators and Assemblymen. In the constitutional amendment the boundaries of the Senate districts were fixed by the Constitutional Convention, and are as partisan and unfair as the Republican caucus managers of that Convention could make them. The 150 Assemblymen which the amendment provides for are apportioned by it to the several counties of the State. New York's allotment is thirty-five. The districts which these thirty-five Assemblymen are to represent must have their boundaries fixed by the Board of Aldermen elected for 1895. With a Republican Board there is no doubt that every effort would be made to carve out of the county as many sure Republican districts as possible by clever gerrymandering. As it is, the allotment of Assemblymen by the Constitution to this city is not in proportion to the population of the city. There should be many more than thirty-five.

how much we fought or how well, the Republicans would sweep the country. Hill would be beaten, he asserted, New York city would be lost, and the whole country would go the same way. I asked him how he, who said he was out of politics, could find reasons upon which to base such an opinion.

"Oh, he explained with a wave of his hand toward the men he named, 'when I want to find out what the political sentiment is I don't ask Martin or Gilroy or the leaders. I get on the cars and go down the street and talk with the men who have votes and who don't know who I am, and find out that way the real drift."

"Yes," continued Senator Faulkner, 'Croker was the only man who ever intimated the result, and he did the same thing before the election in 1840. No one expected such a Democratic victory then, but Richard Croker declared that there would be a landslide in our favor."

There were very few telegrams received by the committee this morning, and most of thesy were from the South, confirming the election of Democratic Congressmen in various districts,

Throughout the departments there is general rejoicing at the news that Representatives Dockery of Missouri and Holman of Indiana, are among those who fell outside the breastworks. Dockery made himself unpopular by reason of his plan for the reorganization of the department service, and Holman is equally unpopular because of his false ideas of economy. But few regrets are heard at the defeat of Springer, the author of the poppuntariff bills in the last Congress, and Rynum, Tom Johnson, and Outhwaits. Some anxiety is felt for tien. Sayers of Texas, the present Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, who is regarded as one of the sleat Democratic in regarded as one of the ablest Democratic in service. of Assemblymen by the Constitution to this city is not in proportion to the population of the city. There should be many more than thirty-five, yet a Republican Board of Aldermen would try to make as many of the thirty-five Republican as possible. The disastrous effect of the election of a Republican Board of Aldermen, the Tanmany leaders who were not completely knocked out by the election returns were not slow to see. As quick to see the advantage of a Republican majority in that Board were Uncle Charley Hackett and his lieutenants of the Republican State Committee, and when they learned that the control of the Board was in doubt they sent out orders to claim everything for the Republican candidates in the close districts, and fight for the Aldermanic candidates as though the battle was for the Presidency of the United States.

Tom Johnson, and Outhwaite. Some anxiety is feit for Gen. Sayers of Texas, the present Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, who is regarded as one of the ablest Democrats in the House. Nearly all of the extremists on the Democratic side of the House are reported among the missing.

The most startling news received here to-day was that North Carolina has probably been captured by the Republican fusionists, which means the defeat of both Senators Ransom and Jarvis, The indications are that the Republicans will regain control of the Senate. If they have but one majority it will not take them long to increase their number, as there will surely be several contests from the Western States. The Republicans can always be relied upon to look after their own friends in a contested election case. In the House there will be a number of contests from the Southern States. In South Carolina the Republican Committee encouraged Republican nominations in every Congress district, with the understanding that in the event of Republican success contests would follow.

for the Aldermanic candidates as though the battle was for the Presidency of the United States.

The Democrats have this advantage, that Tammany Hall has every member of the present Board of Aldermen, which will canvaes the vote for members of the Board of Aldermen cast on Tuesday. Just here it may be noted that one of the advantages which the Republicans would gain by the control of the incoming Board would be that it is to be charged with the duty of canvassing the vote for Presidential electors cast in this city in 1896.

Another advantage to be gained by the control of the Board of Aldermen is the control of the Sinking Fund Commission, which has the administration of the city's millions in property and the investment of the millions of its sinking fund. This is an advantage which appeals more to the municipal reformers than it does to the practical polithein in these days. The Chairman of the Finance Commissioner of the Board of Aldermen is a Commissioner of the Sinking Fund. The other members are the Mayor, the Recorder, the Comptroller, and the City Chamberlain. FAULT OF GROVER CLEVELAND. The Chicago Herald Mays the President Is

CHICAGO, Nov. 7 .- The Herold (Dem.) says the Democratic defeat results immediately from deplorable and inexcusable divisions in the party ranks, and more remotely from a series of blunders at Washington in which Grover Cleveland was the master spirit of evil.

"If he had had a proper appreciation of the foe that was to be encountered when the Democratic party set out to destroy the protective tariff robbers of this country he would have summoned Congress in March, 1893. If tha summoned Congress in March, 1893. If that had been done, the mandate of the people, as given in the elections of 1890 and 1892, would have been far more potent than it was in 1894, when Congress tardfly got to work on the Wilson bill; and many a man who this year sulked or held back or openly traded with the enemy, would have been in line doing loyal service in the cause of reform.

"The almost inconceivable folly and stupidity of that delay was the fault of Grover Cleveland alone. Nearly all of the other blunders by the Democratic party grew out of this one fatal mintake. Stayted wrong, it went wrong, and at every turn it was given a further impetus at the wrong direction by some mischievous utterance from the White House."

GOMPERS TO CLEVELAND.

He Considers the Popular Vote a Rebuks to the Administration, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor sent the following telegram to President Cleveland resterday:

"Without much concert of effort by organ ized labor the people have answered at the polls feated by 4,000. Pigott is buried under an adverse plurality of over 5,000 votes in a district that has always been regarded as surely Demoratic by at least 2,000 votes. Deforest meets the same fate. In 1802 he had 2,210 plurality; this year he is defeated by 3,157.

The Legislature shows: Senate. 22 Republicans and 2 Democrats. In 1802 the Senate was a tie, and the Republican majority in the House was only 26. Every county elects a Republican Sheriff. New Haven elects a Republican Senator and two Republican Representatives, an unprecedented record.

Judge William T. Elmer of Middletown, a personal friend of Gov. Coffin, who nominated him in the Republican Convention, is the most prominent candidate for Speaker of the next House. Samuel Fessenden of Stamford is the only other prominent candidate for the office new mentioned. Cleveland two years ago had a majority of 3,000 in Connecticut. The vote this year was lighter than usual. your assumption of unconstitutional and unwarrantable use of the military power to crush labor. Though the changes may benefit us little, the rebuke will nevertheless be appreciated tle, the rebuke will nevertheless be appreciated and remetabered."

Mr. fompers, when seen by a reporter, said:
"The election established the fact that the people are less partisans than citizens. They are weaning themselves from positive partisanship, and are utilizing the franchise to punish those who violate the interests of the masses. Generally considered, the elections have shown that the masses hold President Cleveland and his Administration responsible for the present industrial and commercial stagnation. There can be no doubt that Cleveland precipitated the financial crash of 1893, and the alliance of his Administration with corporate power and the calling out of the troops at Chicago in violation of Constitutional rights are some of the causes which contributed to the political avalanche."

THREE TEARS OUR MAYOR. Col. Strong's Term Will Last Until Jan.

Not the least of the pleasures which the advocates of the anti-Tammany municipal ticket are experiencing is the knowledge that they have chosen a Mayor whose term of office will not expire until Dec. 31, 1897. In the heat of the campaign many, perhaps most, of the electors lost sight of the probable effect on the terms of office of certain of the candidates in case the constitutional amendments should be adopted. The fact is that the people having adopted the con-stitutional amendments, including Article XII. known as the "cities article," Mr. Strong has been elected for three years. The provision of

By the terms of the Consolidation act Mr. trong's term would expire at noon on Jan. 1, 1897, but the new Constitution extends it until and including the last day of that year. This extension will not be received with any great degree of pleasure by heads of city departm degree of pleasure by heads of city departments whose terms of office will expire in 1897, for even if the Legislature shall not pass a power of removal bill or some amendment to the Consolidation act which will legislate out of office most of the present incumbents of city places. Mayor Strong will have three years in which he can accomplish a great deal in the way of furnishing patronage for the members of the organizations who supported him, and who will be sure to make more demands than he can satisfy.

By May 1, 1895, Mayor Strong will be able to hand over the control of the Police Department to the Republicans if he should wish to do so, for on that date the term of President James J. Martin will expire. By May, 1897, he can put in the control of the gentlemen who elected him the Public Works Department, the Dook Department, the First Department, the Department of Charitles and Correction, the Law Department, and the Board of Health of the city, with all the vast patronage at their command. CLEAN SWEEP IN INDIANA.

Probably Every Republican Congressman Elected-State 50,000 Republican. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7 .- Returns received at Republican State Committee headquarters indicate that the Republicans will capture all the thirteen Congressional districts by clean maorities. The only one in doubt is the Eleventh district. In the Fourth Watson has carried two counties, and his defeat of Holman by at least five nundred seems sure. In the Fifth Cooper has been peaten, and in the Third Tracewell (Rep.) has pulled through by at least 1,500. In the Sixth Johnson is elected without a doubt, and in the Seventh Henry has defeated Bynum by at least Seventh Henry has dereated hynum by at least 2,500.

The returns from the other districts are still meagre. From the figures already in, however, such gains are indicated that it is very doubtful if the Democrats will have a single Congressman out of the thirteen districts. Returns from the State show that Indiana has gone Republican by perhaps 50,000, the Legislature being surely Republican.

Idaho All Republican. Borsy, Idaho, Nov. 7 .- A large vote was polled,

The Democrats concede that Wilson (Rep.) is elected for Congress. The Republican State Committee is satisfied that the party's entire State ticket is elected.

The Legislature will be Republican. Out of 54 in both Houses the Republicans will have 31 at least, and this plurality will probably be increased. Senator Shoup will probably be re-elected.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 7 .- Newlands, silver Conressman, is elected by 4,500. Cleveland (Rep.). for Governor, sarried Washoe, Ormsby, and Storey counties by 350. Neither silverites nor Republicans conosde the State. There is prob-ably not 360 votes difference either way. No news from other counties. The Legislative win-ners include about an equal proportion of Popu-lists and Republicans.

OVERWHELMED IN JERSEY.

ONLY NINE DEMOCRATS IN THE LEGISLATURE.

For the First Time in the History of the State a Solid Republican Delegation Is Elected to Congress-Suspicious Withholding of Returns from Certain Republican Precincts in Hudson County. Not since the time Horace Greeley was the Democratic candidate for President has New Jersey cast such an enormous Republican vote as she did on Tuesday. The entire State went Republican. What little the Democrats saved rom the wreck is scarcely worth mentioning. It was expected that after the gerrymander of the Congressional districts by the Republican Legislature last year the Republicans would slect five or probably six of the eight Congressmen. To their own surprise they elected the entire delegation.

It was thought before the complete returns were received that Johnston Cornish and Edwin A. Stevens, Democratic candidates in the Fourth and Seventh districts, respectively, had been successful, but even that grain of comfort was denied to the Democrats. For the first time in he history of the State New Jersey sends a solid Republican delegation to Congress.

The Democrats elected four of the sixty candidates for Assembly. Of these, three are from Hudson county and one from Hunterdon. Seven Senators, one-third of the total memberhip of the Senate, were voted for, and the Republicans elected all except one of them. They therefore have a majority of eleven in the Senate and fifty-two in the House, making a majority of sixty-three on joint ballot. This is unprecedented. Ex-Senstor William J. Sew-ell counts on being selected to succeed John R. McPherson in the United States Senate, but some leading Republicans say that he may be disappointed. Other candidates are coming to the front. One of the most formidable is Franklin Murphy, the wealthy varnish manufacturer of Newark and Chairman of the Republican State Committee. There will be others before the time comes for electing Senator Mc-Some of the election officers in Hudson county had not finished counting the ballots in time to file them vesterday in the office of the County Clerk. When the office closed at 4 o'clock yes terday afternoon returns from 30 of the 129 voting precincts in the county were missing. The Republican County Committee had figures, however, which showed an almost complete reversal of the returns which were given out from Police Headquarters in Jersey City on election night. Up to nearly 2 o'clock yesterday morning the returns received at Police Headquarters indicated the election of the entire Democratic ticket by majorities ranging from 2,000 to 3,000. After that hour, up to 3:30 A.M., belated returns from Republican precincts began to arrive and change the result. There was no reason why these returns should have been delayed so long.

Chief of Police Murphy had made arrangements to have the result brought in promptly from all the election precincts in the city, but they failed to reach Police Haadquarters for several hours after they had been sent to the Republican headquarters, the Union League Club house, and the rooms of the Wanser Club. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the Republican candidates and their friends who were receiving returns at these places threw up the sponge, shut up shop, and went home. They had no suspicion of the surprise that was in store for them in the morning.

The Republican leaders who were at Police Headquarters when the returns from Republican precincts came in openly declared that they did not expect anything better than the possible election of their candidate for Congress. Chairman Wooley of the Republican County Committee spent the night in Chief Murphy's office, and the returns were taken in there before they were read to the crowd in the Police Court room.

The Republican majorities begin to pile up so fast that Robert Davis, the Democratic leader in the county, was hastily summoned. He went to Headquarters, but, of course, could do nothing to stem the tide. There is a strong suspicion among Democrate that crooked work was done, and there will probably be an investigation. According to the returns at hand last night, the Republicans had elected a Congressman, County Cierk, and eight of the eleven Assemblymen in voting precincts in the county were missing. The Republican County Committee had fig

Cierk, and eight of the eleven Assemblymen in Hudson.

The Democrats elected a Register of Deeds, two Coroners, and three Assemblymen. The vote for Freeholders was incomplete, but the returns at hand indicate the election of thirteen Democrats and seven Republicans. The plurality against Michael J. O'Donnell for County Clerk is 219 on the face of the returns but his friends declare that an error has been made, and that the official returns will elect him.

These are the figures in Hudson County: Congress—Edwin A. Stevens, D. 21,947;
Thomas McFwan, Jr., R., 23,043; McEwan's plurality, 1,096. County Clerk—Michael J., O'Donnell, D., 23,940; John G. Fisher, R., 24,159; Fisher's plurality, 219. Register—George B. Fielder, D., 24,615; Frederich Frambach, R., 24,527; Fielder's plurality, 88.

The Congressmen elected are:

1. H. C. Loudenschlager, R.
2. John J. Gardner, R.
3. Benjamin F. Howell, R.

LOSSES IN VIRGINIA.

Walker, Rep., and Perhaps Hoge, Also Rep., Elected to Congress.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 7.-It is estimated tonight that the Democrats have carried every Congress district except the Ninth, where Gen. James A. Walker, Rep., is elected by about 900 or 1,000 majority. Hoge, Rep., may also be elected in the Sixth district. The Populista polled not one-half of their last vote. The Democratic vote is probably two-thirds of their full

In the Tenth district, where Tucker is elected after a close contest, the Democratic vote fell off considerably. This district and the Ninth, which elects Walker, is made up of counties in which there is a small black vote. The tariff cut a figure in these two districts, which contain coal and iron mines. The Democrats, however, ascribe the result to the great personal popularity of Yost in the Tenth, and to some disgruntlement on the part of "Cyclone Jim Marshall," who was defeated for renomina-

As a rule the negroes did not manifest much interest in the contest. They did not go to the polls in as large numbers as heretofore with the probability of Reed as counter. It is probable that the Republicans will get up several con-tests, but it is considered that this election was tests, but it is considered that this election was fair, and that the voters cast their ballots without any interference. The defeat of Fitz Hugh Lee for the United States Senatorship last winter left a large dissatisfied element in the party. The election of Gen. Walker, Rep., to Congress from the Ninth district promises to play a lively part in Virginia politics and in the Republican party. A move will be instituted at once to put Walker at the head of the Republican party in this State and to oust Mahone from the Chairmanship.

The aim is to give the party a better standing here by identifying with its leadership such men as Yost of Staunton, Borland of Norfolk, and men of that grade, who have been chafing under Mahone's possession of the reins of the party. Walker was Lieutenant-Governor elect on the Democratic ticket with Holliday, and in the fight on Mahone first used this expression:

"Readjustment is highway robbery."

This remark caused the defeat of the Democratic party, as Blair, who was running on the Mahone ticket, won the day by offsetting this remark with the declaration:

"What is honer? Honor won't buy a breakfast."

Walker succeeded Stonewall Jackson as com-

"What is honor? Honor won't buy a break-fast."
Walker succeeded Stonewall Jackson as commander of the famous Stonewall brigade. He went with the Republicans on the tariff issue. His canvass has been bitter, and there are intimations from his district that Walker and one of his opponents. Wysor, are armed to the teeth and each has declared his purpose to kill the other on sight.

HOANOKE, Va., Nov. 7.—Returns from Roanoke 'county, from all but two precincts, give ex-tonsul J. Hampton Hoge (Rep.) a plurality of 354 over Otey as Congressman for the Sixth district.

APATHY IN ALABAMA

Many Congress Districts Close With One Populist Certainly Elected. MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 7 .- Late returns indicate that many of the Congress districts are closer than the meagre returns at first indi-cated. Instead of a solid Democratic delegation to Congress. Alabams will have at least one Populist, and the Republicans and Populists are Populist, and the Republicans and Populists are claiming the acats of three others. Demon, in the Severath district, is defeated by a Populist, Howard, who gained some notoriety by his State election the Democratic went for Kolb and against thates, the Democratic nomines, by 4,000, but it was believed that Democratic conditional popularity with all factions and all parties could overcome this majority.

The apathy among Democrats is unprecedented in the history of the party in this State, and is attributed to discatisfaction with the policy of Mr., Cloveland's Administration. LITTLE CHILDREN.

THEY OFTEN SUFFER TERRIBLY THROUGH IGNORANCE,

Unknown to Parents-Parents Are Responsible for the Neglect Which Causes Their Little Ones to Have Such Painful Eruptions. What a common thing it is to see children, many of them small children, who have blotches, sores, and breakings out of various kinds, These troubles are commonly attributed to some disorder or taint of the blood. Formerly the parents gave sulphur and molasses, more latterly almost anything of which they may bear.

It is a great mistake to think that these children's troubles arise from discased blood. It is not true. Their little bodies are not hardened. and strong, their digestion is not always good, and especially, in nearly every case, are their kidneys and urinary organs weak and often in-active. This is the source of their trouble, and kidneys and urinary organs weak and often inactive. This is the source of their trouble, and parents will realize it if they only stop to think. How often have you had proofs that your child's kidneys were weak? If the kidneys are not strong and active they do not throw the poisons from the blood and hence these poisons break out in sores. And yet it is so easy to keep their little bodies in good healthy condition. Children are usually active and playful, and with a little help, even the slightest assistance, they can be kept healthy and their blood purs.

There is a great preparation, which is the most popular in use to-day, but which has, for some strange reason, been considered principally good for grown-up people. Perhaps this is because it has such unusual power, but while it is true that it is powerful, it is so simple, so harmless, that even a babe can take it without injurious effects. We refer to Warner's Safe Cure, which is a purely vegetable preparation, and wholly harmless in every respect. It acts healthly on the principal organs of the body, but especially on the Kidneys and the urinary organs, and its effects can be felt within a few hours. Little children who are alling, who seem out of sorts, who have eruptions, cannot be ured except by going to the source of the trouble. Read what one mother says:

"At three years of age my boy was taken with kidney trouble of the worst form. After using everything I could get that I thought would benefit him, and receiving no permanent rollef, I was induced to try Warner's Safe Cure. I gave him three bottles of it and he was completely cured. He is now fourteen years of age, strong and healthy." "Mus. D. W. Streel, Mexico, Mo.

The above shows conclusively the great efficiency of the remedy for both adults and children. It has no equal.—Adr.

Miss Lillian Russell in "The Queen of Brilliants" at Abbey's.

The audience at Abbey's Theatre last night had an opportunity to laugh. It came early in the evening, and it was seized upon with a hear-tiness which seemed to indicate a suspicion that it might be the last. Lillian Russell, who was Betta, a fisher girl, in the play, was talking with her lover about marriage. The audience grew alert as the subject came into view. It tittered when Miss Russell said: "Perhaps you'll leave me." It roared when Herbert Wilke turned to her and said: "But perhaps you'll leave me." The joke spread gradually over the audience, and when it reached the back of the auditorium the house was laughing and applauding as it did at no other time during the evening.

"The Queen of Brilliants," which is the opera. that served to bring Miss Russell into New York view again, would never make anybody laugh. After the audience had enjoyed the wit that circumstances gave to the two quoted speeches it settled down to this style of thing: "I took her for betstyle of thing: "I took her for better or for worse, and found her a good deal worse than I took her for." Good old friend that. In a milder vein came a stream of playful inanities of this description: "Don't hit him on his head. It's his weakest spot." There were a plenty of such nuggets of familiar drivel scattered among the sentimental speeches which never got beyond. "Does he love me?" "Shall I trust my heart?" or "Gh, how happy you have made me." The words of the lyrics seemed to rhyme occasionally, but their language was no more unhackneyed and their sentiment no rarer than the spoken dialogue.

The audience began the evening with the usual delusion about a plot, but a long course of comic opera has made even first night audiences wary, and the plot myth was abandoned after the first few minutes. The authors clung to it longer than the audience, but even they called it off toward the middle of the second act and let it go as living pictures. They were very successful tableaux, moreover, and showed the heroine of the opera in three very graceful poses. Theodore Taube and Isidor Fuchs are the German authors of the piece, and H. J. W. Dam has adapted it for America. Which of these three gentlemen introduced the living pictures was not divulged. The opera started from Vienna, and they were probably acquired in London.

The music is by Edward Jakobowski, whose latest work heard here was "The Devil's Deputy." The music of the new work is not so ambituous nor so good. It is tuneful and spirited, and the measures are rhythmical, but it is lacking in color. The orchestration is generally thin, and the score is in no places so musicianly as the close of the second act, for instance, in the opereta, that ter or for worse, and found her a the measures are rhythmical, but it is lacking in color. The orchestration is generally thin, and the score is in no places so musicianly as the close of the second act, for instance, in the operetts that preceded "The Queen of Brilliants" at Abbey's. It is no more original than most of the music the composer has written, and a march in the last act carried imitation to a really laughable length. A song in the first act for Orsola, the shell song for Betta, a comic duet, and a movement in the finale of the second act were among the most interesting numbers.

If the libration of this new opera, however, were as good as the score, the performance would have come much nearer success. Miss Russell was never much more comely than she was in some of her gowns last night, though one or two of them were rather trying in shape and color. She sang with much less facility than usual, and forced her voice unpleasantly at times. She sang consistently out of the side of her mouth, and the facial contortion this required was not becoming. The actors in her support, excepting one, were not successful, and it is doubtful if they had the opportunity. Sydney Howard knew his lines, which was not true of Digby Bell. Annis Meyers supplied the one element of vivacity in the performances, and Laura Joyce always brings to comic opera the case of a finished actress. Owen Westford, Hubert Wilke, Fowler Thatcher, and Madge Greet were other members of the cast.

The material parts of the production were completely successful. The scenery and costumes were elaborate and beautiful. As a spectacle, the work is brilliant. The scenes are lavish in color. There is a company of tireless dancers that were graceful in a serpentine ballet which introduced the living pletures.
